Wellspring House has a 40 + year history of inspiring families, adults and young adults North of Boston to achieve employment and financial security through stable housing, education, job training, and career readiness. For their first in-person staff event since the Covid-19 pandemic, we used art-making as a catalyst for conversation and imagining the future of the organization. Through "Care Packages" we inquired:

- How do I personally connect to the Wellspring mission?
- What's the problem we're trying to fix? How would I fix it if money wasn't an issue?
- What is the ideal world you're trying to create?
